Essence of the Sea
Questions & Answers

Q How do rejuvenating potentials from the sea care for skin?

A Seaweed and marine algae inhabit the ocean, where they are protected by mineral-rich seawater during high tides and exposed to environmental aggressors during low tides. They have adapted to this environment by developing beneficial abilities and nutrients, including minerals, fucoidans, meroterpenoids and phlorotannins, making algae extract and seaweed extract ideal for skin nourishment.

Rejuvenating potentials from the sea fight free radical damage, promote skin fairness, stimulate collagen production, and protect skin from damage due to UV radiation. Seaweed extract has the ability to help in skin repair, skin elasticity, and firmness, and eliminate toxins from the skin, thereby helping to delay visible signs of aging. It reacts with skin proteins to reduce moisture loss.
